

Banner Mountain Creative; Launches 3 New Web Sites for Small Businesses

The Leader in Creative Solutions launches a number of sites for small business

Grass Valley, CA – September 1, 2006 – Banner Mountain Creative, the leader in creative solutions for web, print, media and motion are proud to announce that they completed the design, engineering, and animation for a number of new sites that are centered around promoting smaller businesses. Urban44.com a major property developer in Sacramento and San Francisco, Katsworldfoods.com - an established Nevada County caterer, Tobinarchitects.com, a premier architect in Sun Valley Idaho and Palo Alto California - all went live today.

Banner Mountain Creative hosts and manages the sites as with dozens more. "Our team at Banner Mountain Creative puts the same time, expertise and dedication into the design and engineering of our client's web sites no matter the size of the company." Says Geoff Hayman, Chief Technical Officer and Banner Mountain Creative.

Banner Mountain Creative is engaged with a number of clients similar to those mentioned above. Stay tuned for the announcement of numerous new web sites and Internet applications in the coming weeks and months.

About Banner Mountain Creative: Banner Mountain Creative is a dynamic marketing communications, graphic design and software engineering firm. Offering experience and expertise in all facets of marketing and design for print, the web, software user interfaces and rich media such as; streaming digital audio, video and animation for delivery via the Internet, CD ROM and DVD. Further, we are a full audio and video production house. Everything we create - we create completely in-house.

Banner Mountain Creative offers a completely different approach to the creation and deployment of creative marketing. The projects we execute are the realization of the creative vision of our clients.

<http://www.bannermountain.com>