

Banner Mountain Creative; Launches new site for Kaiser Permanente

New Facility web site for Kaiser South Sacramento / Elk Grove Medical Center

Grass Valley, CA – October 1, 2006 – Banner Mountain Creative, the leader in creative solutions for web, print, media and motion are proud to announce that they completed the design, engineering, and animation for an entirely new facility based web site for Kaiser Permanente. KaiserSouthSacramento.org features home page animation, an entirely new look and feel that truly compliments the famous “Live Long and Thrive” campaign, innovative interactive tours of the facilities and literally hundreds of links to the vast resources that are located at kp.org - the Health Care giant’s home page.

Banner Mountain Creative is currently engaged in several projects for Kaiser, including the reformatting of the web site for internal kiosks, production of 15 health education videos for the Pediatrics department and the continued development of an employee benefit Intranet site for the offices of the medical controller.

“The team at Banner Mountain Creative have always been very attentive to our needs and the numerous changes that an organization of our size demands. I would recommend them as a valuable asset for all design and Internet engineering needs no matter what size the organization.” Says Dan Schaak, Medical Office Controller for Kaiser South Sacramento.

About Banner Mountain Creative: Banner Mountain Creative is a dynamic marketing communications, graphic design and software engineering firm. Offering experience and expertise in all facets of marketing and design for print, the web, software user interfaces and rich media such as; streaming digital audio, video and animation for delivery via the Internet, CD ROM and DVD. Further, we are a full audio and video production house. Everything we create - we create completely in-house.

Banner Mountain Creative offers a completely different approach to the creation and deployment of creative marketing. The projects we execute are the realization of the creative vision of our clients.

<http://www.bannermountain.com>